HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES RECEIVE THEIR DIPLOMAS

Commencement Exercises Held by Class of Eleven at School Hall---All Members Participate

REV. RICHARDS MAKES ADDRESS TO CLASS

Spurred to their best efforts by the large concourse of friends present, 1911 graduates of the Charleroi High School covered themselves with glory at the annual High School commencement exercises held at School Hall Thursday night. A class of eleven was presented with diplomas Rev. F. A .Richards, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, made the address to the class and the presentation of diplomas was by J. M. Hill, president of the school board.

Seated in a semi-circle on the stage the young ladies attired in white gowns and the young men in garments of a sombre hue, the class presented an impressing appearance. With a big oval shaped figure formed of pennants in the class colors of red and white suspended at the back of the stage as the center, beautiful decorations were arranged. The background was of palms and greens. The members of the class were: Johanna Marie Estenfelder, Frances Emeline Clutter, Charles Benton Crabb, Henry Davis Primas, Charles H. Lee, Edith Elnora Hopkins, Mary Etta Howard, Florence Marguerite Whitlatch, Helen Elizabeth Power, Hazel Viola Ream, Robert N. Worthington.

There was no salutatorian or valedictorian. Miss Johanna Estenfelder won the class honors and Henry D. Primas and Miss Edith Hopkins tied for second. Jenkins orchestra rendered overtures. Rev. V. G. Hostetter of the Christian church said the invocation.

Miss Helen Power gave the first oration, the subject being "Richness of Beauty in Life." She spoke of the beauties provided by nature and told how their richness might best be enjoyed by all people.

Establishing the street corner loafer and the idler who was always ready to advise but never to work as the good fellows, Henry Primas gave a forceful oration on "The Good Fellow." He said that it was not the good fellow who accomplished things but the hard and willing workers.

Miss Marguerite Whitlatch rendered in a pleasing manner a piano solo, "Rondo Capricio" by Mendelssohn, and Miss Edith Hopkins read an essay on "The Universal Poetic Instinct." She said that every one had some poetic instinct and that it was this which added greatly to our enjoyment of life.

"Discontent the Motive Power of all Progress" was the subject of Charles Lee's oration. He mentioned the fact that it was discontent which had caused all great work in the world and said that from the same reason great developments could be expected in the future.

A pleasing soprano solo was rendered by Miss Emma Clutter, "It is May Time," which was much appreciated. Benton Crabb delivered an oration, on "The Need of Industrial Training." He told of the good to the industrial and business world industrial schools might be if established universally and properly handled.

Following a selection by the orchestra, Miss Hazel Ream in an oration discussed the subject, "The Ideal Life." This she said was the following of the precipts of the Savior, for a purer, better and nobler earthly existance.

Robert Worthington, representing the foreigner coming into America as the future American, spoke of "American Citizenship of Tomorrow." His subject was well handled, the main point being that we should treat these future citizens with better consideration and help make the nation better.

Miss Mary Howard won applause by a violin solo, after which Miss Johanna Estenfelder delivered an oration the subject of which was "Impossible is Un-American." She said time had proved that the American idea was to accomplish things and that it was due each one to make the most of his opportunities.

Rev Richards in his address to the class pleaded for higher education, citing facts that the college graduate was more successful in life from financial and other standpoints than the one who allowed his opportunities to be neglected. "Don't be Satisfied," he advised "with just getting through one school or institution. Keep on working. There is much to be gained Do not be one of those who falls by the wayside." He congratulated the class upon its success in thus far withstanding all difficulties and said that the effort they would find has been worth while.

Mr. Hill in presenting the diplomas in a brief talk congratulated the class and said it was a pleasure to extend to them the insignia of graduation.

Rev. J. E. Charles of the French Presbyterian church pronounced the benediction.

DIES FROM PARALYSIS

Rev. Negley, Succumbs to Sufferings, Well Known Here

Rev, Dr. Theodore Shields Negley, died Thursday at the parsonage of the Little Redstone Presbyterian church, near Fayette City. Dr. Negley was born in Pittsburg, June 14, 1856, where his early life was spent and where he united with the East Liberty Presbyterian Church founded by his grand-parents, Jacob and Anna Barbara Negley. In 1873 he graduated from Princeton College and in 1878 from Princeton Theological Seminary On October 25, 1876 he was married to Susan C. Todd of Westfield, Mass. His first charge was pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Wilcox and Ridgway, Pa. Twenty-two years ago he accepted a call to the Little Redstone Church near Fayette City. He has remained pastor of the church until April 1, when he resigned on account of ill health.

Rev. Dr. Negley was a strong and forceful preacher and a sympathetic pastor. He always preferred a rural charge rather than a city parish. For many years he filled the position of stated clerk of the Redstone Presbytery. He served many times as representative to its synods and the General Assembly. His widow, the daughter, Jeanette B., one son, George D., three brothers and three sisters, survive.

Funeral services will be held at the church at 2 o'clock this afternoon and also at the Negley home, 305 North Negley avenue at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Interment will take place in Allegheny cemetery.

SCHOOL CODE REMOVES ALL DIRECTORS FROM OFFICE

Charleroi Becomes Third Class School District and Seven Directors Will be Elected

TAX LEVY CANNOT BE OVER 26 MILLS

The new school code, which became a law Thursday through Governor Tenor's signature is a "ripper" bill, in that it rips out of office, directors and school controllers now holding offices. In Charleroi it will have the effect of removing the six school directors next November.

The code divides the state into four classes of districts, first-class districts having a population of 500,000 or over; second-class, 30,000 to 500,000, third class, 5,000 to 30,000, and fourth class, under 5,000.

Under the new law, Charleroi will be a third class school district. Seven directors are to be elected at large at the election next November, two for two years, two for four years and two for six years. The terms will begin on the first Monday of December. The terms of the members of the present board are extended until that time, and they will elect the teachers for the ensuing year, but for no longer.

Second, third and fourth class districts organize this year on the first Monday of December and here after on the first Monday in July. In third and fourth-class districts the tax levy is limited to 25 mills and an occupation tax of at least $1 is assessed. The levy must be made in April or May. The limit by the late law was 26 mills. Charleroi has a levy at the present time of 15 mills, 10 for school and 5 for building.

The code declares the following to be ineligible: Mayor, burgess, county commissioner, district attorney, city councilman, township commissioner, road supervisor, tax collector, comptroller, auditor or constable. Any person who has held an office of trust under the United States, State, county, borough or township and has been removed for malfeasance is ineligile.

Some Men Going Back to Work Along Main Lines and the Valley

A number of employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad who have been on strike since May 1, because of the discharge of certain workmen by the company, have returned to work. The strike began on the main line east, and a sympathy strike followed among shopmen of the Monongahela division. It is thought that striking men along the valley will return to work shortly.

PRESBYTERIANS ARE SHUT OUT BY EPISCOPALS

Triple Play Completed in Sensational Manner Prevents Score

With atriple play the feature of the game, the Episcopals won from the First Presbyterians last night by the score of 6 to 3. The game was won in the first, third and fifth innings. Three runs were scored in the first, one in the third and two in the fifth. At that the Episcopals got only three safe bingles, their scoring being attained mainly at the expense of slipups of the First Presbyterians.

The triple play occurred in the second inning. Oller, first man up for the First Presbyterians, gave Johnson, in right field, a hard run for a fly ball, which he dropped. Dunlap the next man up, was sent to first on balls. on a base on balls. Smith, the next batter caught one of Briggs' offerings squarely. It went in the direction of right center. Roberts,

WAR AND PEACE.

The fiftieth anniversary of the Civil War has started a new crop of reminiscences. Every newspaper that was in existance at the outbreak of that great struggle is digging up its old files and republishing the stirring events that occurred in their respective localities from week to week. As neither Charleroi nor the Mail were in existance until some thirty odd years after this sanguinary affair the readers of this paper will have to forego the pleasure of local Civil War reminiscences.

In spite of the awful and demoralizing consequences of war, it is refreshing to contrast the patriotic and self-sacrificing sentiment that pervaded the country in the dark days of '61 with the selfish, mercenary and treasonable sentiment that is everywhere apparent today. Now, every other person one meets is "agin" the government; then, there was no other thought but the preservation of the government, and men were ready and willing to sacrifice everything—home family, property, personal comfort and even life. that Old Glory might perpetuate the symbolism of liberty for which it stands.

Paradoxical as it may appear, it takes war to bring out and develop the best elements of human nature. Prolonged peace instead of advancing the elevating the God-like attributes of man debases them. We have become a nation of traders and with wealth and gain the ruling passion, knavery and trickery reign instead of patriotism, justice and humanity. With fear of loss of wealth or prestige uppermost in the public mind, there is little incentive for patriotism The citizen who is too timid to stand for civic righteousness because of the effect it may have upon his business, differs only in degree as to what sort of a traitor he is to his government. The fortunes of war bring out the sterner and nobler qualities of manhood and develops the heroic figures which constitute our standard of patriotism.

For this reason the Civil War reminiscences are valuable in showing to the present generation that there was a time when the lust of gain was held in abeyance and men had to do ar die to preserve the opportunities which are so little appreciated now.

LEARN TO LAUGH.

A good laugh is the finest tonic that we can have, and if it happens to be at ourselves—well, so much the better. Once we can laugh at our disappointment that particular grievance takes wings and flies away, leaving us calm and unruffled to face the next. The man who enjoys a good laugh every day will be young at eighty.

How Cloves Are Cultivated.

Cloves are now cultivated in many tropical rgeions. A clove tree begins to bear at the age of ten years and continues until it reaches the age of seventy-five years. There are two crops a year, one in June and another in December. The tree is an evergreen and grows from forty to fifty feet high, with large oblong leaves and crimson flowers at the end of small branches in clusters of from ten to twenty. The tree belongs to the same botanical order as the guava. The cloves, which are the undeveloped buds, are at first white, then light green and at the time of gathering bright red. Pieces of white cloth are spread under the trees at harvesting time, and the branches are beaten gently with bamboo sticks until the cloves drop. They are dried in the sun, being tossed about daily until they attain the rich dark color that proclaims them ready for shipment.—Harper's Weekly.

An Embarrassing Situation.

A young man fresh from the varsity, where he had excelled in athletics, presented himself for ordination. The bishop, as was his custom, entertained the candidates at the palace, and after dinner the usual informal evening party took place. At this function the young man referred to entered into conversation with an affable gentleman in clerical attire whom he found standing in leisurely fashion just within the drawing room door. "Who's that rather scrumptious looking girl on the sofa?" said he. "She's my wife," replied the affable cleric, with an amused smile. The young candidate was silenced for a moment, then he stammered: "I am sure I beg ten thousand pardons! I thought she was the bishop's daughter." "So she is," was the quiet rejoinder, "and I'm his lordship's domestic chaplain."

The Secret Test.

"How," the president of the Fat Man's club was asked, "did you prevent fraud among your applicants for membership? Didn't some men try to get in that weren't up to the standard weight?"

"Yes," the portly officer replied, "but it was no use. Applications had to be presented in person at the Polk building, fifth floor. There was no elevator. The applicant climbed the five flights of stairs.

"At the top he met a man who asked, 'Were you looking for the Fat Man's club?'

"'Yes.'

"'The main office is on the first floor,' the man said. 'Your application is rejected. We receive no man who can climb five flights of stairs.'"—Youth's Companion.

The Last Luxury.

Ten-year-old Arthur had been telling impressively of the number of servants employed in his home. He continued, "And our house is fixed so that if you want a drink or a window raised or to go upstairs or anything all you have to do is to pull a chain."

"But what do you want with so many servants in that sort of a house?" asked one of his hearers.

"Oh," replied Arthur, "we have the servants to pull the chains."—Judge.

ANIMALS' TOILETS.

Fur Seals Are as Particular as Women In Fixing Up.

The cat carries her clothesbrush in her mouth, for with her rough tongue she cleanses her glossy coat as a boy brushes off his clothes. She licks one of her front paws and rubs it over her face and she is ready for her breakfast.

Foxes, dogs and wolves do not use their mouths when they need to wash and brush, but scratch themselves vigorously with their hind paws and are as fresh as ever.

The cow with her long, rough tongue combs her coat of hair until it is clean and curly. The horse more than any other animal depends on his owner to keep his coat in proper condition, but often he will roll on the green grass or rub himself down against a tree or fence.

Field mice comb their hair with their hind legs, and the fur seal in a similar manner spends as much time as a woman in making herself look smart.

Although the elephant appears to be thick skinned and callous, he takes great care of his skin. He often gives himself a shower bath by drawing water into his long trunk and blowing it on the different parts of his body. After the bath he sometimes rolls himself in a toilet preparation of dust to keep off the flies.—Our Dumb Animals

Flower Perfumes.

A garden full of flowers is more fragrant when shadowed by a cloud than when bathed in sunshine; at least that is the conclusion to which experiments of a French scientist lead. He asserts that it is light and not, as commonly believed, oxygen that exerts the greatest influence in desortying odors. According to the same authority, the intensity of the perfume given off by a flower depends upon the relation between the pressure of water in the cells of the plant, which tends to drive out the essential oils that cause the odor, and the action of the sunlight, which tends to diminish water pressure in the cells. Sprinkling the plant increases the turgescence and as a consequence a more copious production of perfume. At night the air round a flower bed is heavy with odors, because then their emanation is not opposed by the sunlight.—New York Tribune.

INFLAMMATION AND PAIN

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Creston, Iowa.—"I was troubled for a long time with inflammation, pains in my side, sick headaches and nervousness. I had taken so many medicines that I was discouraged and thought I would never get well. A friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it restored me to health. I have no more pain, my nerves are stronger and I can do my own work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me after everything else had failed, and I recommend it to other suffering women."—Mrs. Wm. Seals 605 W. Howard St., Creston, Iowa.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. For 20 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitate—write at once.

The Most Beautiful Thing.

A newspaper recently invited its readers to state in a few words what they considered the most beautiful thing in the world. The first prize was awarded to the sender of the answer, "The eyes of my mother." "The dream of that which we know to be impossible" suggested an imaginative person, and this brought him second prize. But the most amusing thing was that which read, "The most beautiful thing in the world is to see a man carrying his mother-in-law across a dangerous river without making any attempt to drop her in."

Knew His Business.

"She had him arrested for kissing her, and he was fined $500."

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES RECEIVE THEIR DIPLOMAS

REV. RICHARDS MAKES ADDRESS TO CLASS

Spurred to their best efforts by the large concourse of friends present, 1911 graduates of the Charleroi High School covered themselves with glory at the annual High School commencement exercises held at School Hall Thursday night. A class of eleven was presented with diplomas Rev. F. A .Richards, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, made the address to the class and the presentation of diplomas was by J. M. Hill, president of the school board.

Seated in a semi-circle on the stage the young ladies attired in white gowns and the young men in garments of a sombre hue, the class presented an impressing appearance. With a big oval shaped figure formed of pennants in the class colors of red and white suspended at the back of the stage as the center, beautiful decorations were arranged. The background was of palms and greens. The members of the class were: Johanna Marie Estenfelder, Frances Emeline Clutter, Charles Benton Crabb, Henry Davis Primas, Charles H. Lee, Edith Elnora Hopkins, Mary Etta Howard, Florence Marguerite Whitlatch, Helen Elizabeth Power, Hazel Viola Ream, Robert N. Worthington.

There was no salutatorian or valedictorian. Miss Johanna Estenfelder won the class honors and Henry D. Primas and Miss Edith Hopkins tied for second. Jenkins orchestra rendered overtures. Rev. V. G. Hostetter of the Christian church said the invocation.

Miss Helen Power gave the first oration, the subject being "Richness of Beauty in Life." She spoke of the beauties provided by nature and told how their richness might best be enjoyed by all people.

Establishing the street corner loafer and the idler who was always ready to advise but never to work as the good fellows, Henry Primas gave a forceful oration on "The Good Fellow." He said that it was not the good fellow who accomplished things but the hard and willing workers.

Miss Marguerite Whitlatch rendered in a pleasing manner a piano solo, "Rondo Capricio" by Mendelssohn, and Miss Edith Hopkins read an essay on "The Universal Poetic Instinct." She said that every one had some poetic instinct and that it was this which added greatly to our enjoyment of life.

"Discontent the Motive Power of all Progress" was the subject of Charles Lee's oration. He mentioned the fact that it was discontent which had caused all great work in the world and said that from the same reason great developments could be expected in the future.

A pleasing soprano solo was rendered by Miss Emma Clutter, "It is May Time," which was much appreciated. Benton Crabb delivered an oration, on "The Need of Industrial Training." He told of the good to the industrial and business world industrial schools might be if established universally and properly handled.

Following a selection by the orchestra, Miss Hazel Ream in an oration discussed the subject, "The Ideal Life." This she said was the following of the precipts of the Savior, for a purer, better and nobler earthly existance.

Robert Worthington, representing the foreigner coming into America as the future American, spoke of "American Citizenship of Tomorrow." His subject was well handled, the main point being that we should treat these future citizens with better consideration and help make the nation better.

Miss Mary Howard won applause by a violin solo, after which Miss Johanna Estenfelder delivered an oration the subject of which was "Impossible is Un-American." She said time had proved that the American idea was to accomplish things and that it was due each one to make the most of his opportunities.

Rev Richards in his address to the class pleaded for higher education, citing facts that the college graduate was more successful in life from financial and other standpoints than the one who allowed his opportunities to be neglected. "Don't be Satisfied," he advised "with just getting through one school or institution. Keep on working. There is much to be gained Do not be one of those who falls by the wayside." He congratulated the class upon its success in thus far withstanding all difficulties and said that the effort they would find has been worth while.

Mr. Hill in presenting the diplomas in a brief talk congratulated the class and said it was a pleasure to extend to them the insignia of graduation.

Rev. J. E. Charles of the French Presbyterian church pronounced the benediction.

DIES FROM PARALYSIS

Rev. Negley, Succumbs to Sufferings, Well Known Here

Rev, Dr. Theodore Shields Negley, died Thursday at the parsonage of the Little Redstone Presbyterian church, near Fayette City. Dr. Negley was born in Pittsburg, June 14, 1856, where his early life was spent and where he united with the East Liberty Presbyterian Church founded by his grand-parents, Jacob and Anna Barbara Negley. In 1873 he graduated from Princeton College and in 1878 from Princeton Theological Seminary On October 25, 1876 he was married to Susan C. Todd of Westfield, Mass. His first charge was pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Wilcox and Ridgway, Pa. Twenty-two years ago he accepted a call to the Little Redstone Church near Fayette City. He has remained pastor of the church until April 1, when he resigned on account of ill health.

Rev. Dr. Negley was a strong and forceful preacher and a sympathetic pastor. He always preferred a rural charge rather than a city parish. For many years he filled the position of stated clerk of the Redstone Presbytery. He served many times as representative to its synods and the General Assembly. His widow, the daughter, Jeanette B., one son, George D., three brothers and three sisters, survive.

Funeral services will be held at the church at 2 o'clock this afternoon and also at the Negley home, 305 North Negley avenue at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Interment will take place in Allegheny cemetery.

Benefit Ball Game Tomorrow.

Considerable interest is manifested in the forthcoming ball game between the Lutherans of the Church League and the Allegheng High School team which takes place tomorrow at the ball park immediately after the field meet of the Valley High Schools. SCHOOL CODE REMOVES ALL DIRECTORS FROM OFFICE

Charleroi Becomes Third Class School District and Seven Directors Will be Elected

TAX LEVY CANNOT BE OVER 26 MILLS

The new school code, which became a law Thursday through Governor Tenor's signature is a "ripper" bill, in that it rips out of office, directors and school controllers now holding offices. In Charleroi it will have the effect of removing the six school directors next November.

The code divides the state into four classes of districts, first-class districts having a population of 500,000 or over; second-class, 30,000 to 500,000, third class, 5,000 to 30,000, and fourth class, under 5,000.

Under the new law, Charleroi will be a third class school district. Seven directors are to be elected at large at the election next November, two for two years, two for four years and two for six years. The terms will begin on the first Monday of December. The terms of the members of the present board are extended until that time, and they will elect the teachers for the ensuing year, but for no longer.

Second, third and fourth class districts organize this year on the first Monday of December and here after on the first Monday in July. In third and fourth-class districts the tax levy is limited to 25 mills and an occupation tax of at least $1 is assessed. The levy must be made in April or May. The limit by the late law was 26 mills. Charleroi has a levy at the present time of 15 mills, 10 for school and 5 for building.

The code declares the following to be ineligible: Mayor, burgess, county commissioner, district attorney, city councilman, township commissioner, road supervisor, tax collector, comptroller, auditor or constable. Any person who has held an office of trust under the United States, State, county, borough or township and has been removed for malfeasance is ineligile.

RAILROAD STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED

Some Men Going Back to Work Along Main Lines and the Valley

A number of employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad who have been on strike since May 1, because of the discharge of certain workmen by the company, have returned to work. The strike began on the main line east, and a sympathy strike followed among shopmen of the Monongahela division. It is thought that striking men along the valley will return to work shortly.

Convention at Waynesburg.

Fills Every Want.

The Busy Bee Restaurant fills every want in the restaurant line. Under the new management it is making lots of new friends every day. Frequently one hears traveling men on the trains recommend the Busy Bee Restaurant at Charleroi to their friends. They do this because they know that Busy Bee is a modern and the best place to eat in Charleroi. And the charges are within the reach of the slimest pocket book. The service is unsurpassed and the food palitable and digestable. 234t6

PRESBYTERIANS ARE SHUT OUT BY EPISCOPALS

Triple Play Completed in Sensational Manner Prevents Score

With atriple play the feature of the game, the Episcopals won from the First Presbyterians last night by the score of 6 to 3. The game was won in the first, third and fifth innings. Three runs were scored in the first, one in the third and two in the fifth. At that the Episcopals got only three safe bingles, their scoring being attained mainly at the expense of slipups of the First Presbyterians.

The triple play occurred in the second inning. Oller, first man up for the First Presbyterians, gave Johnson, in right field, a hard run for a fly ball, which he dropped. Dunlap the next man up, was sent to first on balls. on a base on balls. Smith, the next batter caught one of Briggs' offerings squarely. It went in the direction of right center. Roberts,

WAR AND PEACE.

The fiftieth anniversary of the Civil War has started a new crop of reminiscences. Every newspaper that was in existance at the outbreak of that great struggle is digging up its old files and republishing the stirring events that occurred in their respective localities from week to week. As neither Charleroi nor the Mail were in existance until some thirty odd years after this sanguinary affair the readers of this paper will have to forego the pleasure of local Civil War reminiscences.

In spite of the awful and demoralizing consequences of war, it is refreshing to contrast the patriotic and self-sacrificing sentiment that pervaded the country in the dark days of '61 with the selfish, mercenary and treasonable sentiment that is everywhere apparent today. Now, every other person one meets is "agin" the government; then, there was no other thought but the preservation of the government, and men were ready and willing to sacrifice everything—home family, property, personal comfort and even life, that Old Glory might perpetuate the symbolism of liberty for which it stands.

Paradoxical as it may appear, it takes war to bring out and develop the best elements of human nature. Prolonged peace instead of advancing the elevating the God-like attributes of man debases them. We have become a nation of traders and with wealth and gain the ruling passion, knavery and trickery reign instead of patriotism, justice and humanity. With fear of loss of wealth or prestige uppermost in the puolic mind, there is little incentive for patriotism The citizen who is too timid to stand for civic righteousness because of the effect it may have upon his business, differs only in degree as to what sort of a traitor he is to his government. The fortunes of war bring out the sterner and nobler qualities of manhood and develops the heroic figures which constitute our standard of patriotism.

For this reason the Civil War reminiscences are valuable in showing to the present generation that there was a time when the lust of gain was held in abeyance and men had to do ar die to preserve the opportunities which are so little appreciated now.

LEARN TO LAUGH.

A good laugh is the finest tonic that we can have, and if it happens to be at ourselves—well, so much the better. Once we can laugh at our disappointment that particular grievance takes wings and flies away, leaving us calm and unruffled to face the next. The man who enjoys a good laugh every day will be young at eighty.

How Cloves Are Cultivated.

Cloves are now cultivated in many tropical rgeions. A clove tree begins to bear at the age of ten years and continues until it reaches the age of seventy-five years. There are two crops a year, one in June and another in December. The tree is an evergreen and grows from forty to fifty feet high, with large oblong leaves and crimson flowers at the end of small branches in clusters of from ten to twenty. The tree belongs to the same botanical order as the guava. The cloves, which are the undeveloped buds, are at first white, then light green and at the time of gathering bright red. Pieces of white cloth are spread under the trees at harvesting time, and the branches are beaten gently with bamboo sticks until the cloves drop. They are dried in the sun, being tossed about daily until they attain the rich dark color that proclaims them ready for shipment.—Harper's Weekly.

An Embarrassing Situation.

A young man fresh from the varsity, where he had excelled in athletics, presented himself for ordination. The bishop, as was his custom, entertained the candidates at the palace, and after dinner the usual informal evening party took place. At this function the young man referred to entered into conversation with an affable gentleman in clerical attire whom he found standing in leisurely fashion just within the drawing room door. "Who's that rather scrumptious looking girl on the sofa?" said he. "She's my wife," replied the affable cleric, with an amused smile. The young candidate was silenced for a moment, then he stammered: "I am sure I beg ten thousand pardons! I thought she was the bishop's daughter." "So she is," was the quiet rejoinder, "and I'm his lordship's domestic chaplain."

The Secret Test.

"How," the president of the Fat Man's club was asked, "did you prevent fraud among your applicants for membership? Didn't some men try to get in that weren't up to the standard weight?"

"Yes," the portly officer replied, "but it was no use. Applications had to be presented in person at the Polk building, fifth floor. There was no elevator. The applicant climbed the five flights of stairs.

"At the top he met a man who asked, 'Were you looking for the Fat Man's club?'

"'Yes.'

"'The main office is on the first floor,' the man said. 'Your application is rejected. We receive no man who can climb five flights of stairs.'"—Youth's Companion.

The Last Luxury.

Ten-year-old Arthur had been telling impressively of the number of servants employed in his home. He continued, "And our house is fixed so that if you want a drink or a window raised or to go upstairs or anything all you have to do is to pull a chain."

"But what do you want with so many servants in that sort of a house?" asked one of his hearers.

"Oh," replied Arthur, "we have the servants to pull the chains."—Judge.

ANIMALS' TOILETS.

Fur Seals Are as Particular as Women in Fixing Up.

The cat carries her clothesbrush in her mouth, for with her rough tongue she cleanses her glossy coat as a boy brushes off his clothes. She licks one of her front paws and rubs it over her face and she is ready for her breakfast.

Foxes, dogs and wolves do not use their mouths when they need to wash and brush, but scratch themselves vigorously with their hind paws and are as fresh as ever.

The cow with her long, rough tongue combs her coat of hair until it is clean and curly. The horse more than any other animal depends on his owner to keep his coat in proper condition, but often he will roll on the green grass or rub himself down against a tree or fence.

Field mice comb their hair with their hind legs, and the fur seal in a similar manner spends as much time as a woman in making herself look smart.

Although the elephant appears to be thick skinned and callous, he takes great care of his skin. He often gives himself a shower bath by drawing water into his long trunk and blowing it on the different parts of his body. After the bath he sometimes rolls himself in a toilet preparation of dust to keep off the flies.—Our Dumb Animals

Flower Perfumes.

A garden full of flowers is more fragrant when shadowed by a cloud than when bathed in sunshine; at least that is the conclusion to which experiments of a French scientist lead. He asserts that it is light and not, as commonly believed, oxygen that exerts the greatest influence in desorbing odors. According to the same authority, the intensity of the perfume given off by a flower depends upon the relation between the pressure of water in the cells of the plant, which tends to drive out the essential oils that cause the odor, and the action of the sunlight, which tends to diminish water pressure in the cells. Sprinkling the plant increases the turgescence and as a consequence a more copious production of perfume. At night the air round a flower bed is heavy with odors, because then their emanation is not opposed by the sunlight.—New York Tribune.

INFLAMMATION AND PAIN

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Creston, Iowa.—"I was troubled for a long time with inflammation, pains in my side, sick headaches and nervousness. I had taken so many medicines that I was discouraged and thought I would never get well. A friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it restored me to health. I have no more pain, my nerves are stronger and I can do my own work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me after everything else had failed, and I recommend it to other suffering women."—MRS. WM. SEALS 605 W. Howard St., Creston, Iowa.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

The Most Beautiful Thing.

A newspaper recently invited its readers to state in a few words what they considered the most beautiful thing in the world. The first prize was awarded to the sender of the answer, "The eyes of my mother." "The dream of that which we know to be impossible" suggested an imaginative person, and this brought him second prize. But the most amusing thing was that which read, "The most beautiful thing in the world is to see a man carrying his mother-in-law across a dangerous river without making any attempt to drop her in."

Knew His Business.

"She had him arrested for kissing her, and he was fined $500."

"Yet they are good friends now."

"Yes; he announced in open court that it was worth the price."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

who had been diligent in his efforts to keep Oller from securing too big a lead off second base, was in splendid position for the play. In taking the ball, he fell at full length, and while in that position, threw the ball to Kuhn, who relayed it to first in time to retire Smith. The play was a fast one all round, and was easily the feature of the game. Score:
